

Public Outdoor Creations

Public Outdoor Creations develops and produces high-end design elements for the public space. The elements are made of metal, wood or concrete and are modular. Our products can be customized, providing endless possibilities for furnishing the public space.

Our three collections are recognized for their superior quality and finish. We are also able to modify our standard products for custom projects. And, if desired, we can manage the entire installation of the project and take care of the maintenance. The products are handmade at our production site in the Netherlands or in the USA by professionals with many years of experience and expertise.

In this brochure we present our three collections. The Straight and Curved collections are modular and offer a touch of greenery. The City2Connect collection is more functional and can be used as a flexible solution for the public area. All three collections share the same design DNA and functionality, making them combinable.

We look forward to working with you to design and create your high-quality sustainable outdoor spaces. Our team is here to help you.

The Modular Collection

The three Public Outdoor Creations collections are modular and can be combined with each other. As the name suggests, the Straight collection offers square and rectangular shapes, while the Curved Collection features rounded shapes. Both collections offer scope for added greenery. The City2Connect collection consists of high-end, timeless and functional design elements that lend themselves to flexible configuration. A special system with a metal strip that is installed in the pavement makes it possible to use our products in a Plug & Play manner. The various products in the three collections offered by Public Outdoor Creations can be composed and combined at will, creating infinite design possibilities in the public space.

We Care

Public Outdoor Creations aims to be the world's most sustainable manufacturer of street furniture. We also involve our suppliers in this, so we can create a sustainable supply chain together.

We have laid out our green ambitions in the '5 principles of sustainability'. This is the common theme that is an integral part of everything we do. One of the projects we have launched is the planting of our own forest in Brazil. We believe that, as a manufacturer, we have a responsibility to add something to this world and to hand the planet on to future generations in a responsible way.

Our products are made by skilled professionals and feature sustainable characteristics. Our products have been designed with care and are of high quality. As a result, we can make a sustainable contribution to improving the quality of public spaces. Many of our products add a touch of greenery, which allows us to increase biodiversity in urban areas. Our water solutions retain water in dry periods and provide coolness in hot periods. We believe that the combination of good products and sustainable production processes ultimately adds value and sets us apart from our competitors as a sustainable partner for the development of public spaces.

5 Principles of Sustainability

We produce 100% solar driven

We only travel when necessary

We create our own POC forest in Brasil

We apply only sustainable materials

We only design timeless solutions

Studio POC

Design Services

Studio POC is a multidisciplinary in-house design agency that provides design and consulting services. Public Outdoor Creations is the perfect partner for custom projects. We can translate your idea into a solution in just a few steps, designing a special product or developing a design proposal. As the design team works in close collaboration with production, cost estimates can be provided quickly, and your designs can be expertly translated into a product.
